RAILWAY FROM EDMONTON TO HUDSON BAY.

Ottawa, Jan. 29. The railway committee of Commons to day considered a bill to incorporate Saskatchewan Valley and Hudson Bay railway company. The company proposes to construct a railway from Edmonton to Prince Albert and thence to Fort Churchill, on Hudson Bay, a distance of 1,300 miles.

Mr. Emmerson suggested that for such a long road the capitalization of one million dollars was rather small. G. E. McCrany is the promoter of the bill, which provides that the securities issued shall not exceed $25,000 per mile. It was made clear that the company was not to possess any special rights. The committee, which declared in favor of "free trade" in all ways to the Hudson Bay bill. The bill was then reported.

Local News.

W. A. Brodie's business meeting and entertainment takes place on Friday, the 13th.

Cook Myer, who has been on the sick list for the past two weeks, is now able to be out and around again.

James L. Dadds and Herman Deitrich, of Morningdale, adorned a town with their presence this week.

George P. Graham has been elected leader of the Liberal party in Ontario. Mr. Harcourt, T. H. Preston, and A. G. McKay were also nominated but withdrew, making the choice unanimous.

As the weather is almost our sole topic of conversation at present, Foster's predictions for the new month are given in another column. He takes his time from meridian 90, which crosses a little west of Fort William, so people can judge for themselves.

Joseph A. Smith, the head of the Mormon Church, and whose polygamous life has been proved in the United States Courts, has just purchased the Cochrane ranch in Alberta, 70,000 acres, but when paid, paying for it nearly half a million dollars.

A wedding, which brought forth a deal of comment and hearty congratulations, was solemnized in town on Thursday evening, the 24th, when John Hendley, of Cambridge, was wedded to Miss Mattie Williams, Rev. Mr. Dalgleish officiating, and a number of relatives and friends gathered to witness the ceremony. That the young couple will have love and prosperity in their lives is the wish of their friends here.

Charivari, what is that? Apparently it is a gathering of people who have to give vent to their feelings when a couple gets married in our midst. With all fairness, has it not become a nuisance. All license to the young and gay, let them enjoy themselves, but when it carries the length of destroying private property, or invading the homes of disinterested citizens, then a halt ought to be called. No need to say more on the subject, but if some of our young men who are aspiring to take a leading part in the social life of our town would pause to think, then there would be no such regrettable scenes to complain of.

Mrs. Duncan Gillies and daughter, Manda, returned from their trip to the States on Monday. It took them ten days to get through, and the report they give of the weather conditions in Minnesota and the Dakotas is appalling. High mountains of snow, and when they came through the wind was blowing at hurricane fury. At one station the remains of their horses were frozen to death on their sleds, were shipped, and all along great distress prevailed. Mrs. Gillies is right glad to be home again.

Dr. Menbury, of Infaillible, is visiting with friends in this city.

The prize-list is issued for the Alberta Provincial Fat Stock Show, which is to be held in Calgary on April 2, 3, 4 and 5. The prize money is very considerable.

As evidence of the demand for fuel, Henry Dick has netted the handsome sum of over $250 from broomstick which he brought to town this season; but then Mr. Dick is fortunate in having such fine timber on his farm, east of town.

This week has brought no reminder that spring will soon be here. Tuesday will easily hold first place as being the coldest day of the season; the glass being as low as 25 in the morning, and never rising above 30 throughout the day. But somehow we are surviving it all.

Mrs. Wilson and family arrived in town Monday from California. Mr. Wilson came up and located in the Whitehurst district last week and now, he welcomes his family. We extend to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson a hearty (not a warm) welcome, and may they be long spared to live in Sunny Alberta.

An application will be made at the present session in Ottawa for an act to incorporate a company to build a line of railway from a point on the northern boundary of British Columbia to Dawson City, by way of Yukon River valley or by other feasible route.

R. H. Fairley spent a few days last week in Infaillible, and had several good games at curling. When will Ponoka, like her sister towns, be able to boast of a curling rink? The time is not yet, although whippers can be heard, pointing to the proposition being taken up at no distant date.

Many were the hearty greetings extended Mr. and Mrs. John Burns on their return to our community. They homesteaded near Chain Lakes some six years ago, but went back to their old home in the States. After experiencing the pleasure of living here their old home lost many of its attractions, and back they came at the end of last week to make their home on the beautiful ranch near the lakes where so many spent a holiday phase. Accompanying them was Chas. Kovanda, who also intends making his home here.

In comparison with other points, Ponoka is fortunate in being well supplied with coal. This week M. L. Madson has been to the front, and is free! free! free! everyone is comfortable, indoors. Plenty of fuel.

The vacancies, one on the council board and the other a school trustee, caused by the resignation of Jas. Dick and J. W. O'Brien, were filled on Tuesday by acclamation. C. D. Algar takes Mr. Dick's place on the council board, and H. E. Penfold succeeds Mr. O'Brien as school trustee.

The seventh annual meeting of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Consumption and other forms of tuberculosis will be held in Ottawa the 13th and 14th of March next. A public meeting of the members of the association and of the citizens generally, at which His Excellency will preside, will be held in the Assembly Hall of the Ontario Provincial Board of Health, will deliver a lecture upon Home Treatment of Consumption.

The following account of the death of E. Fegenbush's father, who resided here some four years ago, is taken from an Iowa paper:—

"Jacob Tobias Fegenbush died January 13th 1907, at his home in great township, of pneumonia, and was brought to Whiting for funeral services and buried in Lake cemetery. He was born in Jackson county, Indiana, 1844, and moved with his parents to Tama county, Iowa, in 1855. In 1856 he moved to Menona county where he has since resided with the exception of one year in Canada. He was married to Elsie Goben, May 18th, 1865, to them have been born ten children six boys and four girls of which eight are still living. Elmer, the eldest who is living in Ponoka, Canada, the others live in Menona county. David, Charles, Joel and William, Fannie, Dan, Myrtle Clark and Mary. He was the eldest son of Tobias and Carolina Fegenbush, who was born in Germany moving with children to this country in 1810, moving with small children to New Orleans in 1812.

Jacob Fegenbush was one of a large and worthy family of four teen children of whom four boys four girls are still living. He was a man loved and respected by all who knew him, who had not an enemy as he was always just and kind to all."

The shooting season has gone and of course ducks are out of the question, yet the farmer is having his sport. Not a few have been seen on our streets with a coyote or two lying in their sleighs. The mood of killing is this. The animal is seen on the trail, so, untie a horse and give chase. It takes no time, in the deep snow to run them down. Wm. Seider, east of town, has had several such experiences during the past week. The hides are a fair price at present, and can't an energetic resourceful farmer make money easily.

THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD.

There has been found a richer man than Croesus, and he lives in the United States. That a comparatively obscure man owning property worth a billion dollars should be living in that country, silent and unobtrusive, and generally speaking unknown, is a very incredible thing in this day of newspaper publicity.

To Charles Norcross, a well-known Washington correspondent, he has the credit of having brought into the limelight the little known personality of Frederick Weyerhaeuser.

Mr. Norcross has an interesting article telling how one old man has gathered together the vastest fortune on the earth—a fortune largely bound up in timber lands—and how the accumulation of this immense wealth has been made possible through a great national crisis.

Frederick Weyerhaeuser is a recluse. His only business interest is in the timber lands he owns. He is not a man who shares his secrets. His home life in St. Paul is quite and simple. Even to those who know him best he is a living puzzle, an enigma, a mystery which they cannot solve.

Born in Germany in 1834, he came to America as an immigrant, and worked and toiled to work as a section hand on a new railroad.

Then he got a job in a sawmill. Soon he owned the mill.

The rest of his life has been a steady growth of buying timber land, selling it at a profit, buying more timber, then repeating all over again.

Nowadays which have lately led to many scandals in this country, the growth of the Norcross at St. Paul has been more than a million men of his time and talents could spend in a hundred years.

In his article in the Cosmopolitan, Mr. Norcross says:

"There is nothing in this country which is growing in value by leaps and bounds like timber lands. The forest land is much yet; but in time, possibly within the next few years, according to well informed lumbermen, the real supply will be greatly diminished and prices will have risen to such an extent that they will be more than twice what they are now."

Weyerhaeuser has been buying timber lands for more than twenty years, and he has now a vast empire of timber lands in the Northwest.

"If he lives twenty years longer, and retains what he has today, he will be wealthy beyond all computation. It is hardly necessary to be specified as to the increase in the value of timber lands, but just enough of cases may be cited as instances, and for these cases John G. Staats, editor of the Lumberman's Review, and one of the best informed lumber experts in the country, is authority."

"According to Mr. Staats' one piece of yellow pine land, held ten years ago at a price of $75,000 is today worth $1,250,000. Another tract in West Virginia, covered with spruce and hemlock, and purchased five years ago for $125,000, has recently been sold for $3,000,000. The cases might be continued indefinitely, but these two are enough to show the way the timber market has increased in value. They are in no way remarkable. Hundreds of others just as impressive could be given."

"In the lumber territory of Wisconsin, Minnesota, and the upper Mississippi River district he has acquired years ago unimproved. It is estimated by those who have studied Weyerhaeuser's widespread business interests that he has acquired a million acres of timber land in under his control—fifty thousand square miles, an area six times as large as the State of New Jersey."

As to value, again one must speculate. It may be cited that recently the Weyerhaeuser interests sold one square mile in Thurston County, Washington, for $100,000—an acreage of nearly 640 acres. Of course that was a small tract. It would be no more to be sold in the land is worth close to a billion dollars—and it is increasing in value at a greater rate than any other public utility."

Death of a Ponoka Farmer

CHAS. A. WEBSTER DIES A TRAGIC DEATH.

When it became known that Chas. A. Webster had died suddenly at his home, south of town, on Friday afternoon, a wave of regret passed over the whole community.

Mr. Webster had been to town Wednesday in apparently good health and spirits. Thursday he called upon his neighbor, Mr. Van Dyke, and asked him to call over in the evening, as not feeling very well, he wanted some chores done. Mr. Van Dyke, when he called on Friday afternoon, found him in bed in a state of collapse. On making enquiry as to what was wrong, was told that he was about to die.

No time was lost in summoning medical aid, but before Dr. Stevenson arrived life had become ebbing. As circumstances pointed to poisoning, the doctor issued a warrant for an inquest, which was held in his office Saturday, the following being the jury:—J. H. Farrell, Dr. E. Manning, Chas. Gehlke, C. D. Alagar, H. E. Penhagons, C. C. Reed, W. R. Courtright.

After evidence, the finding was that Chas. A. Webster had come by his death through the effects of carbolic acid poison.

Mr. Webster, who was a man of about seventy years, has lived here for some six years, and resided alone on his ranch. He was well known on our streets, and proved a good citizen. Well read, he was always ready to enlighten on almost any topic touched upon.

Whether he took his own life intentionally, or accidentally, will never be known. He had suffered from a bad throat for a number of years, and was known to have been doctoring with carbolic acid. No doctoring with carbolic acid, he was found by his loving relatives, but it is supposed he was born in Ontario, and moved to the States in his youth.

The funeral took place on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Dalgleish conducting a short service in the Methodist church.

DR. MCINTYRE WANTS THREE CENTS RATE. Dr. McIntyre, of Stratford, has been notified in the House of Commons that he will move the following motion:—"That it is the opinion of this House, notwithstanding anything contained in the general law, or in any special act incorporating any railway company, that no railway shall be allowed to charge more than three cents per mile per passenger, unless, after full investigation, special permission to do so is given by the board of railway commissioners."

The object of this is to secure in the now provinces the privileges now enjoyed by Manitoba and the eastern provinces, and to bring once into operation such privileges.

Foster's Weather Forecast

FEBRUARY WILL BE VERY COLD.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbances to cross continent 31 to Feb. 4, warm wave 30 to Feb. 3, cold wave Feb. 2 to 6. Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about 5, cross west of Rockies about 7, cross of great central valleys 7 to 9, eastern states 10. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 5, great central valleys, 7, eastern states 9. Cold wave will cross west of Rockies about 8, great central valleys 10, eastern states 12.

Very little easy going weather may be expected during February and the above forecasted disturbances will be all round strenuous affairs. First days of the month will be warm and spring-like and then immediately preceding the disturbance a moderate cold wave warning up a little as the storm centre approaches and then radical weathering with a severe cold wave and blizzard in northern sections and a cold rain in the south.

Colder and colder will grow the weather and cold will be followed by a great fall in temperatures not far from 20, the two weeks ending Feb. 25. The fall in temperatures from about 10 to 15 will be very great and the rise will be nearly as great from 15 to 25. Nearly all the disturbances of the month will come from Feb. 5 to 19.

My predictions of high temperatures first part of January to be followed by a great fall in temperatures were well put out as were also the dates given for increase and decrease in force or intensity of the storm features.

Moderate weather is expected about and immediately following Jan. 25, and then a great high temperature wave as we approach Feb. 2. Force and storm will increase about the following Jan. 25 and the storms will be quite severe for Feb. 2. For the moment of weather features from west to east all my dates are for midday, but you must count a little earlier for west of that line and a little later for east of it.

The earthquakes this year have all occurred near the dates on which I had predicted severe weather and destruction in the form of storms. I thoroughly believe that most earthquakes are electrical shocks of the same nature as thunder-bolts and I believe that with carefully prepared records of past earthquakes these disturbances may be successfully foretold.

DEATH OF MR. BLAIR.

Former Minister of Railways Dies Suddenly.

Hon. Andrew G. Blair, former minister of railways, died suddenly in a coal mine at Linton in Ontario, on Friday evening. He went from Ottawa the day before in apparently good health, to attend to business in connection with the New Brunswick Telephone Company. He was in good spirits in the evening, and took dinner with his sister-in-law, the Misses Thompson. After dinner he was chatting pleasantly when of a sudden his head fell back, and he began to breathe heavily. Miss Thompson rushed to Judge Wilson's, next door, and he and the doctors speedily arrived, but too late. He died within five minutes of the first attack. Physicians announce that death was due to heart failure.

COAL EXPLOSIONS.

A terrible disaster involving the loss of many lives, has occurred in a coal mine at Linton in Ontario, on Sunday. The catastrophe was due to an explosion of fire-damp. One hundred and sixty-five men and seventeen horses were killed. The mine has been closed from the mine up to the present. There were many more men in the mine when the explosion occurred than at first thought, as three hundred are missing.

Two hundred and fifty miners were entombed early on Sunday morning at the Bechen shaft, Starbuck Rhenish Russia by an explosion of fire-damp. Two corpses and many injured have been taken out.

RAILWAY FROM EDMONTON TO HUDSON BAY.

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—The railway committee of Commons to day considered a bill to incorporate Hudson Bay Valley and Hudson Bay railway company. The company proposes to construct a railway from Edmonton to Prince Albert and thence to Fort Churchill, on Hudson Bay, a distance of 1,500 miles.

Mr. Emmerton suggested that for such a long road the capitalization of one million dollars was rather small. G. E. McCraney, the promoter of the bill, which provides that the securities issued shall not exceed $25,000 per mile. It was made clear that the company was not to possess any exclusive rights. The committee, in fact, declared in favour of "free trade" in all ways to the Hudson Bay bill. The bill was then reported.

DAKOTA IS COMPLETELY TIED UP.

No less than fifty trains are stalled in the snow of North Dakota, and at least 1500 to 2000 persons are snowed in along the lines of the Great Northern, Soo, and Northern Pacific roads. "We have not had a train over our road from the west for twenty-four hours," and chief train dispatcher A. W. Shepley of the Southern Railway of the month said to local train dispatchers every railroad cut in the state of North Dakota has been filled with snow. It will take hours to get snow plows through to bring relief to imprisoned passengers. The Soo express was able to clear the track as far west as Enderlin, which is in the southern part of North Dakota, but when trains from the further west will be able to reach their destination in the Twin Cities, the officials cannot say.

According to news received at various railroad offices the trains are tied up all along the lines. The land coal shortage through the state still continues, and the citizens of Jamestown held up a couple of cars of coal billed for Coopers town and helped themselves. Only a few cars of coal have been received in Jamestown within a fortnight. Kenosha on the Soo reports suffering from want of fuel and since the road is unable to cope with the more blockade it is impossible to tell when relief will be given.

The L. T. W. E. Simmons.

Quite a gloom was cast over our community when word was received of the death of W. E. Simmons, which took place in the hospital, Edmonton, on Friday night, to which he was taken the preceding Monday. He had been ailing from dyspepsia for some time, but his sudden demise was quite unlooked for, he being in the prime of life.

Mr and Mrs Simmons came up from town, and took a homestead one three years ago, and all went well, the couple commencing to get on their feet, till in the beginning of last summer he was called upon to suffer the loss of Mrs Simmons.

The remains were brought from Edmonton on Tuesday, by K. C.
McLeod, conducting a short service in the Hotel Ponoka, prior to their removal to Enfield, where they were laid to rest.

To Mrs L. Sack's a's sister-in-law, and all relatives a's sympathy of our community goes out.

THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD.

There has been found a rich man then Rockefeller, and he lives in the United States. That's comparatively cheap when you consider that a billion dollars, which will be living in that country, since unexpended, and generally speaking, unexpended, of some hundreds in this day of newspaper publicity to Charles Narcross, a well known Washington correspondent, he lives the credit of having brought into the limelight the little known personality of Frederick Weyerhaeuser.

In the Comopolitan Magazine
Mr Narcross has an interesting article telling how one old man has gathered together the vastest fortune on the earth—a fortune largely bound up in timber lands—and how the accumulation of this immense wealth has been made possible through a great national crime.

Frederick Weyerhaeuser is a resolute. His own business associates in it is to show his secret. His home life in St. Paul is quite and simple. Even to those who know him best he is a living puzzle, an enigma, a mystery which they cannot solve.

Born in Germany in 1834, he came to America as an immigrant, moved west and went to work as a section hand on a new railroad.

Then he got a job in a sawmill.
Soon he owned the mill.

The rest of his life has been a series of successful, steady grading, buying timber, then selling it at a profit, buying more timber, then selling it at a still larger profit. It is the success which have lately led to the great fortune.

The Northwest area has been made possible through a great national crime.
